

Annual Report 2023

The Swedish National Group

Activities during 2023

The Swedish National Group has to inform you that, unfortunately and shamefully, we did not have the possibility to work with the AI questionnaires. All the lawyers working with these kind of topics are overworked and can possibly not take new job assignments. As I told you at the meeting last June, 2023, unfortunately, The Swedish National Group has therefore been embarrassing passive concerning the AI questionnaires.

However, The Swedish National group has been working with other issues, as mentioned below. The Group carried out four board meetings during the year. These meetings have mostly been about planning for the two annual meetings of the group.

The first meeting for all the members of the Swedish National Group was held in June in the Office of the Prosecutor General in Stockholm. At this meeting the professor in constitutional right , Mikael Ruotsi, made a speech on the subject "espionage affecting foreign relations".

The second meeting was planned to take place - as usual - in December, However, due to special reasons it had to be postponed until Januari 2024, also in the office of the Prosecutor General. At this meeting, the special prosecutor Jessica Wenna talked over the subject "Honour culture - challenges and successes".

The Swedish National Group is looking forward to work with the upcoming subject for the next five years. It is our wish that this - sofar unknown - subject will be possible for us to work with.
